22/04/2015 10:33	I recently attended the Patient Participation Group and was made to feel very welcome. It was an opportunity to meet our new GP and also to listen to plans on how we could contribute with help and ideas within the Practice. I will be trying to encourage some of the younger patients to join and feel that having a balance is most important. Thank you for the time you gave in setting up the meeting. As a patient of 30 years I am very pleased and remain very satisfied with the service I and my family are offered. Jean Glover
